
Karger Platform Change and Linking Issues - 2023

Effective May 2, 2023, Karger introduced a new online platform of journals and books in partnership with Silverchair. Keeping pace with evolving standards and practices, the web platform offers a new range of features along with a simplified user experience and can still be found at karger.com. For more details see: <https://karger.com/pages/whats-new>

Karger supplied new title lists for all collections. The parsers were revised and the collections have been updated.

Subsequent to the platform change the links of some titles in various collections did not resolve properly. These links are now fixed.
