Chinese Electronic Periodical Services Collections: Missing titles Issues

We're experiencing some difficulties with the Chinese Electronic Periodical Services collections provided by Ex Libris. Unfortunately, there are missing titles due metadata gaps in the data file we received from the content provider.

The problem: The data file contains duplicate identifiers (ISSNs) for the different titles. This occurs when titles or publishers change but the ISSN remains the same. The provider has confirmed this issue, but it is currently not possible to update the data file with unique identifiers for all the titles.

What this means for you:

- Some titles may be missing. We're actively working with the provider to resolve this issue.
- Please activate the titles currently available.

We'll keep you updated on any progress or solutions.
