How do I implement the Gale Access Program bundle in Ex Libris products?

Gale Access Program is a bundle of books, reference sources, and database products. Due to the bundle containing multiple Gale collections in one purchase, it is not possible to create a single collection to make it work as expected across Ex Libris products. Because of this, libraries who have a subscription to Gale Access Program should select/activate collections as indicated in the spreadsheet below. The spreadsheet contains all of the collections and their Alma, 360 KB, and SFX details.
