
Position of setenv parameter lines aleph_start file

- Article Type: General
 - Product: Aleph

Description:

We have discovered that this line:

setenv include_all_aut Y

is missing from our aleph_start file. Where should it be placed within that file?

Resolution:

As long the "setenv include_all_aut Y" is before the "exit" line, it will be functional.

(I see that the APACHE_MEDIA lines in are after the exit. To be functional, they need to be before.)

But, in terms of the organization of the file, this line should go in the "Version and/or platform dependent setting" section. It should be before this line:

End of version and/or platform dependent setting #####
