Description:

Can the upgrade express steps be done out of order? Step 1001 will take hours on our system (we have 750,000 permissions in our z67). We are considering running step 1001 while running the other steps from another session. (We would have to use the Option 2 "Run a specific step" menu choice).

Resolution:

You can run steps out of order, if necessary. Generally this is done if a step failed and you need to go back to redo it. However, you CANNOT run multiple steps in parallel. There are common files that are shared by each step, so running more than one step at a time will cause problems.
