
EXPIRATION-DATE in license

- Article Type: Q&A
 - Product: Aleph
 - Product Version: 21
-

Question

In the license file ($alephe_tab/license), there is a line similar to the one below:

```
EXPIRATION-DATE 201308
```

On what day does the license expire?

Answer

The EXPIRATION-DATE is the last year and month the license file is valid. The license is good until the end of the month. In the example above, the date indicates that the license is valid until the END of August (31 August 2013)

Category: System Management

- Article last edited: 11/20/2013