

In what order are .tar.gz files harvested?

- Article Type: General
 - Product: Primo
 - Product Version: 2

Description:

In a case that pipes were disabled for some time and there are now a number of .tar.gz files in the same location, in what order will they get harvested/updated? This is particularly relevant when there is concern that an older update will overwrite a newer update.

Resolution:

Primo harvests and processes the .tar.gz files from oldest to newest, according to the date/time that they were saved, therefore there is no reason for concern.
