Description:

Our campus IT department would like to install the October 2008 Oracle critical patch. I wanted to check with you first to see if it was OK before I tell them to go ahead.

Resolution:

The CPU has been installed on an Ex Libris server and, though complete testing (and packaging) of the CPU has not yet occurred, there is no indication of any problem.

[Later:] CPU was checked and released. (See Doc Portal --> Cross-Product Information --> Oracle)
