

GUI client access denied by the newly upgraded PC server

- Article Type: General
 - Product: Aleph
 - Product Version: 18.01
-

Description:

The upgrade express kit has been run on the Test server. While there're pending issues (mostly warnings), A GUI client was installed to test out. The connection was refused. The following error was found in the PC server log:

```
Server does not support client version '18.01'
```

Resolution:

This is like KB 6681. The following line needed to be added to the Test server's $alephe_tab/tab_version:

```
18.01 ALEPH Y 0
```

And then, restart the pc_server.

Additional Information

faq

- Article last edited: 10/8/2013