

Order log error message

- Article Type: General
 - Product: Aleph
 - Product Version: 20

Description:

Users who have permission to view the order log are receiving an error message when they try to do so. The message is that they do not have permission to update the log, and it pops up on each attempt to see an order.

Is there a way to turn off this message for those users who should not have order log update privileges but still need to simply view it? We are on version 20.
