

CAT fields copied over in Duplicate'd bib record

Description:

When you duplicate a bib record, the CAT fields are not supposed to be included in the new records, and, normally, they are not.

But we have one particular record which has inherited the CAT records from the old record!

We have tried to reproduce this oddity, but cannot.

Resolution:

We don't know what might cause this. If you get further cases, please try to see what might be different.

If other sites encounter this, please contact me (jerry.specht@exlibrisgroup.com).
