

Vague error message for one letter wildcard

- Article Type: General
 - Product: Verde

Description:

When searching for a string with one complete word and one letter plus a wildcard (e.g. "Apples a*"), Verde returns the following error message: "Your search query returned too many hits. Try narrowing your search." The specific reason for the error is because of the second word containing only one letter and a wildcard (there should always be at least two letters before a wildcard character), and the error message should reflect that.
