Question

Is there an inventory program for Voyager?

Answer

Voyager does not have an integrated inventory function. However, some Voyager customers have developed their own programs for this function, and shared them with the wider Voyager community through

* Developers Network: find customer-contributed presentations, resources & code for a variety of Voyager-related features and projects, including inventory

* Voyager-L: search the archives for previous discussions around inventory, or post your own query to the list.
