Question

Is it possible to change the default date that is automatically added to the form when creating a hold request? Currently it's 2 months from the active date.

Answer

You may change the "Period of interest" date by changing the following line in `$alephe_root/www_server.conf`:

setenv www_z37_date_to M002
```

In this case it is the current date plus two months. You may use one of the letters M (months), D (days) or Y (years), followed by a three-digit number. After changing the file restart the web server.
