

Science Direct is not parsing to the article level

- Product: Alma
 - Product Version: Feb 2018 Release

Description

Science Direct is not parsing to the article level. It is going to the journal level. This used to work correctly for us.

In an example, if you were to click on "Science Direct Journals Complete" you are not taken to the journal article. Instead, you are taken to the Journal of Hydrodynamics, Ser. B web page, the home of the article.

We checked our Elsevier job and it ran normally this morning. We checked the collection in Alma, and it is set up with the proper parser parameters.

Resolution

Alma Development implemented a fix for this locally, and has a data fix we can run for any customers still affected by this specific issue. Please open a Case with Support if you believe this problem impacts your site.
