

Sharing Distribution Certificates

- Product: campusM
 - Operating system: iOS, Android

In order for Ex Libris to distribute the iOS app on the Apple Store, the customer is required to reserve one Distribution Certificate for Ex Libris. Apple restricts each Apple Developer account to three Distribution Certificates total. As such, the customer remains with having two certificates with which they may do as they wish and share with whomever needs them.

Ex Libris will manage the distribution certificate for the app we create for customers, this distribution ticket should not be changed or revoked by customers.

Warning! Revoking a certificate will disable the ability to create builds, will disable provisioning profiles and thus connected HockeyApp builds, and will block submission for any apps connected to the certificate.
