

How to Add New App Manager Accounts

Question

How are new campusM App Manager accounts added or requested.

Answer

App Manager accounts are typically added and managed by a local campusM administrator through an existing App Manager account. Adding new accounts locally, rather than requesting them through Ex Libris, ensures that support does not interfere with existing permissions schemes, as any App Manager account may only add users with the same level of permissions or lower. However, if access to existing accounts is no longer possible, please contact support for assistance.
