

Analytics Evidence PG5 - Ability to Publish Read-Only Dashboards to a Wider Audience

Dashboards are available with Primo Analytics but it is not possible to publish them outside of the Primo Back Office.

The option is available for a scheduled dashboard but it only sends the first page in a PDF file and ignores all of the other pages in the dashboard.

Use case:

Most library staff do not have access to the back office.

If dashboards are available as a feature, then it should be possible to make them viewable without the need for an account in the back office.

It's noted that web surfacing analytics can be done via api but being able to embed stats into a webpage without Developer level access would be welcomed.
