Question

Does Ex Libris recommend any specific self-check vendor?

Answer

Ex Libris does not recommend any particular self-check vendor. Nor does Support keep track of self-check products in use. This applies as well to other products using the SIP2 protocol.

Support suggests posting to the Voyager-L listserv or searching its archives to see what members of the Voyager community are using.

When evaluating a vendor ask whether it has successfully implemented its system with another Voyager site and whom you can contact at that site.
